The UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA
HALL OF FAME TOURNAMENT
January 19-20, 2024

REGISTRATION

All entries must be received by 2:00 p.m. Tuesday, January 16th. NO ENTRIES WILL BE TAKEN AFTER THIS TIME. Entries will be handled at SpeechWire.com.

DEBATE

Entries: Each school may enter a maximum of eight entries in L-D debate and/or Public Forum debate. This can be any combination of either L-D or Public Forum –just as long as the entire debate entry for a school does not go over 8 entries. Debaters may not enter any individual events.

Format: L-D debate will have five preliminary rounds with appropriate elimination rounds. Each team will debate two rounds on the affirmative and two rounds on the negative. The fifth round will be a flip for sides. L-D debate will debate the approved NFL debate topic for January using the standard L-D format with a 5-minute prep rule.

Format: Public Forum debate will have five preliminary rounds with appropriate elimination rounds. Public Forum debate will follow standard NSDA procedures and will be using the January resolution topic.

INDIVIDUAL EVENTS

Students entered in i.e. may double enter in each group (two events per grouping only). A school may enter an unlimited number of entries per event.

Group A:

Prose Interp: Contestants will present a reading from published prose material. Students may present one selection or a group of selections on a unified theme. The maximum time limit is 10 minutes. A manuscript must be used.

Duo Interp: Two contestants present a cutting from a published play, humorous or serious, involving two or more characters. This material may be drawn from stage, screen, or radio. This is not an acting event. Thus, no costumes, props, lighting, etcetera are to be used. The maximum time limit is 10 minutes.

Dramatic Interp: Selections must be cuttings from published plays only. The selection must have one or more characters. This is an interpretation event, not an acting event. The maximum time limit is 10 minutes.

After Dinner Speaking: Contestants will present an original speech that is humorous in nature and related to one central theme. This is a speech, not a comedy routine. The same principles for good speechmaking should be applied. Humor should be in good taste and presentation should be from memory. Visual Aides and/or Props allowed. The maximum time limit is 10 minutes.

Impromptu Speaking: Contestants will present an impromptu speech, serious in nature, with topic selections varied by round and by section. Topics will be of a proverb nature. Speakers will have a total of 7 minutes for both preparation and speaking. Time commences with the acceptance of the quotation. Limited note card use is permitted.

Group B:

Extemporaneous Speaking: In each round the contestant will draw three topics and select one to speak on. The contestant will have 30 minutes to prepare a 4-7-minute speech. The topics will be based on current events (national and international). Limited note card use is acceptable.

Poetry Interpretation: Contestants will present material from a published source of poetry. Students may present one poem or a group of selections on a unified theme. The maximum time limit is 10 minutes. A manuscript must be used.

Original Oratory: Contestants should discuss a topic of interest to his or her audience. The oratory should be intelligent, original, and interesting. Although orations may deal with a specific problem and propose a solution, this is not the only acceptable form of oratory. The speech need not offer a solution. Presentation should be from memory. The maximum time limit is 10 minutes.

Humorous Interpretation: Contestants will present a cutting from published humorous material. The maximum time limit is 10 minutes.

Informative Speaking: Students deliver a self-written, ten-minute speech on a topic of their choosing. Limited in their ability to quote words directly, Informative Speaking competitors craft a speech using evidence, logic, and optional visual aids. All topics must be informative in nature; the goal is to educate, not to advocate. The speech is delivered from memory.

Program Oral Interpretation: Using a combination of Prose, Poetry and Drama, students construct a program up to ten minutes in length using at least two out of the three genres. With a spotlight on argumentation and performative range, Program Oral Interpretation focuses on a student's ability to combine multiple genres of literature centered around a single theme. Competitors are expected to portray multiple characters. No props or costumes may be used except for the manuscript. Performances also include an introduction written by the student to contextualize the performance and state the titles and authors used in the program.
